Additional Heating and Hot Water Details

Heating - From construction 22 Spruce Grove has been heated by Creda 'Comfortaire' night storage electric hot air central heating system. There is no Gas supply to the block. When required, switching gear associated with the smart electricity meter activates the storage heater at night to take advantage of the cheaper off-peak tariff, as contracted with the supply company. (Currently EDF). The stored heat can then be extracted during the day by manual or thermostatically controlled fan, ducted to all rooms. Biannual servicing is recommended though with no moving parts other than the fan it requires little maintenance. There is also a manually switched alternative power supply to the storage heater with a manually set timer, for use only in case of malfunction of the supply company's automatic switching gear.

Hot Water - The unvented hot water cylinder is sized to provide hot baths with provision for a lower level night storage immersion heater, currently disconnected and a higher level immersion heater which can be manually controlled but is currently connected to the night storage circuit. It provides hot water at mains pressure and includes safety valves which should be checked annually. The electric shower does not draw on the hot water supply. Estimated cost of electricity per year £1,673. (2024)
